B.C.-Australia Air Service Plans Are To be Fully Explored

Britain in Negotiations With Dominion and U.S., London Commons Told

Pacific Islands Studied as Bases

LONDON (AP)—The government announced in the House of Commons today it was considering establishment of an air service across the Pacific Ocean from Canada to New Zealand.

Negotiations already are under way with the Dominions concerned, and also with the United States over ownership of certain Pacific islands along the proposed route, Lieut.-Col. A. J. Muirhead, Under-Secretary for Air, announced.

He was replying to Abraham Lyons, Conservative, who had asked whether "in view of British Pacific interest it is proposed to establish an air service from Canada to New Zealand and Australia, and whether any and what steps have been taken in the matter."

Mr. Muirhead said "tentative discussions have taken place with the Dominion governments concerned and preliminary surveys are being made on a number of Pacific islands which might be suitable as air bases."

"The matter will be further considered in connection with development of imperial air routes," he added.

Asked by Mr. Lyons if "these conversations will be resumed forthwith," Mr. Muirhead said: "A good number of things are being investigated with which the Dominion Government and the government of the United States are concerned."

"The matter is intimately bound up with the question of ownership of certain islands in the Pacific, about which conversations are taking place."

LUMBER PARTY COMING TO B.C.

Thirty-five British Importers and Merchants to Visit Coast in August

At the invitation of the British Columbia Government a party of 35 United Kingdom timber merchants and importers will visit the coast late in August.

The government has been advised of the arrangements for the tour by W. A. McAdam, acting agent-general in London.

It is the second such tour within the last two years. A party of 25 visited the province in 1936.

Reports received by the government indicate that the trip paid good dividends in the way of investments of British capital in British Columbia lumber operations and in orders for lumber.

It was originally planned to invite 25 merchants for the 1938 trip, but requests were so numerous the size of the delegation was increased.

They will study timber growth, logging and manufacturing, familiarizing themselves with conditions on the spot.

Plans for the trip call for the party to leave Southampton on August 12 on the Empress of Australia. They will reach Vancouver on the morning of August 25, and for ten days will be guests of the government, visiting timber operations mainly on Vancouver Island. They will leave for home on the evening of September 3.

MAN HURT ON HIGHWAY DIES

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Jack McLeod died in a hospital here early today from injuries suffered in an accident on the Loughheed Highway, near Haney, B.C., last Thursday.

Exact nature of the accident has not been determined, according to British Columbia police, who investigated the mishap. McLeod was found lying on the road by a passing motorist.

It was believed he suddenly collapsed while crossing the road way.

Reid Tells M.P.'s Ship License Plan For Panama Would Hinder B.C.

OTTAWA (CP)—British Columbia interests believe that shipping of goods by water from that province to Atlantic Canadian ports "will be curtailed if not eliminated" by the section of the Transport Bill dealing with shipping regulations, Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster, told the House of Commons Railway Committee today.

The committee is considering the bill of Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, to change the name of the Board of Railway Commissioners to the Board of Transport Commissioners and to extend its regulatory power to air and certain shipping.

Coastal shipping on the east or west coast would not be regulated under the bill, but shipping from British Columbia to the Maritimes by way of the Panama Canal would come under the board's jurisdiction.

Mr. Reid said he was voicing the representations of business interests and the board of trade in the constituency of New Westminster, "who are vitally interested in this proposed measure and who feel their interests and (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

After getting away to a bad start, Herbert M. Woolf's Lawrin scored a smashing upset victory in the Kentucky Derby last Saturday at Churchill Downs, Louisville, heading home such favorites as Fighting Fox and Bull Lea, which failed to finish in the money. The order is: Lawrin, Dauber, Can't Wait, Menow and The Chief.

Japanese Bombard Amoy, China, and Land Armed Force

Fliers Drop Leaflets Advising Foreigners Leave Southern City

SHANGHAI (AP)—The Japanese navy Tuesday launched an expedition against Amoy, chief port of the southern coastal province of Fukien.

Foreign dispatches said a Japanese naval force landed after heavy bombardments by 12 warships offshore and relays of bombing planes. The invaders came to grips at once with the Chinese garrison.

Japanese planes dropped leaflets on Kulangsu Island, Amoy's foreign settlement, urging foreign residents and foreign vessels to leave the port and announcing Japan's intention to occupy the Chinese city.

(The normal foreign population of Kulangsu is about 250,000. Amoy, 250,000 population, 620 miles down the coast from Shanghai, is the chief gateway to Fukien, population 12,000,000.)

The leaflets promised rights and interests of neutral powers would be safeguarded.

Aerial bombing lasted throughout the day, and the famous university of Amoy, one of the most modern institutions in China, was reported damaged.

NEW DIVISIONS

Meanwhile three Japanese columns, advanced steadily northward toward the vital Lunghai railway Tuesday as five new divisions of troops were reported en route from Japan to reinforce the stalemated drive in south Shantung.

Foreign military observers expressed the belief the Shantung fighting would remain deadlocked until the invaders could organize a new offensive when the fresh troops arrived.

SEVEN BRITISH FLIERS KILLED

Four R.A.F. Crashes in England; Five Fliers Killed in France

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Flying Officer Hugh Henley May was killed late today in a crash of a Royal Air Force plane at Kenley Surrey. It was the day's fourth aerial disaster and brought the day's death toll to seven.

Six other Air Force fliers were killed and two injured earlier today in three airplane crashes near Lincoln, in a field close to Hilton, Huntingdonshire, and the Wyron aviation school airfield.

The worst accident was at the Wyron airfield, where a Blenheim bomber crashed at a take-off and burst into flames. Pilot Officer Douglas Perry was hurled out of the plane and killed. Aircraftsmen John J. G. Rice and Frederick Grimes, respectively observer and wireless operator in the ship, were burned to death.

A biplane attached to the Wyron aviation school plummeted to the earth in a field near Hilton. Pilot Officer Ivon J. Fawcett and Pilot Officer Colin J. S. Lee of Aircraft Squadron 139 were killed.

Pilot Officer Richard D. H. Maxwell was killed and Corporal David R. Wissett and Aircraftsman Whitefield Dods were injured in the crash of a ship attached to the 144th squadron near Lincoln.

LYONS, France (CP-Havas)—Five French army fliers were killed when a military plane crashed near here today.

Big Seaplane Base in Alaska

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States House of Representatives naval committee completed hearings today on a proposed $28,000,000 naval shore construction program, including new air bases in Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. Chairman Vinson announced the committee would vote on the program tomorrow.

A $5,000,000 seaplane base on Kodiak Island, Alaska, is proposed.

Franco Presses Coastal Attack

Spanish Rebels Concentrate On Approaches to Valencia

HENDAYE, France (AP)—Spanish insurgents concentrated the main force of their attack today on coastal approaches to Castellon de la Plana and Valencia. The fighting on the eastern front centered about Cuevas de Vinroma, 30 miles to the north of Castellon, and the insurgents sought to regain an area they lost yesterday.

The insurgent strategy was to force the government fighters' right flank to fall back westward, thereby widening the narrow strip which General Franco holds along the Mediterranean.

Much of the insurgents' heavy field artillery was reported to be moving to this front, over a highway skirting the sea and one of the few main arteries which remained passable during the past 18 days of rain.

Cricketers From Hollywood Coming

Motion picture and radio notables of Hollywood will again send a cricket team to play in Victoria and Vancouver this year, according to Major Gordon Smith, Commissioner of Tourist Development for the province, who returned yesterday from a tourist promotion trip to California.

Mr. Smith discussed arrangements for the trip with Thomas Freebairn Smith, CBS radio announcer, who will captain the team this year in the absence of C. Aubrey Smith, who is in England making pictures.

Nigel Bruce and Alan Mowbray are already definitely listed as members of this year's Hollywood team. The visit is tentatively set for the beginning of July.

Province Joins City In Refunding Appeal

Government Supports Victoria in Fight For Debt Adjustment Plan

Premier Pattullo announced today the provincial government will join the city of Victoria, in its appeal against the ruling of Mr. Justice Harold B. Robertson that the act authorizing Victoria's refunding scheme is ultra vires.

The Premier's announcement followed cabinet consideration of Victoria's request that the government take over the appeal which involves legislation it sponsored in the House.

Mayor McGavin, with Aldermen W. Lloyd Morgan, chairman of the finance committee, and John Worthington, met the Premier yesterday afternoon and outlined the city's position.

The Premier gave instructions this morning for the Attorney-General's Department to join the appeal.

From the provincial standpoint, the question at issue involves the right of the Legislature to force minority shareholders outside the province to take a cut in interest if the majority shareholders agree.

The government, for the present at any rate, does not contemplate any specific action to protect refunding schemes of Prince Rupert and other cities that have carried them out under similar legislation. It was explained, however, that since pretty well the same principles are involved in a successful appeal in the Victoria case would automatically establish validity of the other schemes.

Official action was taken by the City Council at a camera session last night to file notice of (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Arrest Follows Fires In Liner

Police at Havre Hold Sailor of French Vessel Champlain

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Police arrested a sailor for questioning today after two fires were discovered aboard the French Line vessel Champlain. The fires were extinguished quickly with little damage.

The Champlain, held here by a strike which began May 4 and ended only today, was berthed near the liner Lafayette, destroyed by fire the night of May 4.

The sailor, Joseph Salou, a watchman on the Champlain, turned in the alarm for the second fire, discovered in a first class cabin, where bed clothing and woodwork were afire.

At first he told police he had surprised a stranger lighting paper in the cabin, but later admitted that story was false.

The first fire was found on B deck, where a pile of papers and straw wrappings from bottles was burning.

Chinese confirmed reports the right column of the northward Japanese drive had captured Fowling, 60 miles from the eastern end of the Lungshai line. It was expected to follow the Grand Canal to Yunkho, Lungshai station, and then advance along the railroad to Suohow, 50 miles to the west, where the Lungshai crosses the North-south Tientsin-Pukow line.

LEAGUE ACTION ASKED
GENEVA (AP)—Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate to the League of Nations, today asked the League Council to apply provisions of the covenant in giving China aid against Japan.

He cited two resolutions, one by the League Assembly last October and another by the Council in February, which recommended that League members consider individual aid to China.

"With one exception," he said, none of the League members had come to China's aid. He did not name the country which had supplied the help, but it was believed he referred to Soviet Russia.

"In the name of my government I ask the Council to apply provisions of the covenant and implement the resolutions of the Assembly and Council with concrete measures," he said.

"By such action, Japanese aggression with all its horrors and cruelty may effectively be brought to an early end and the principles of the League, indispensable for the establishment of durable peace in the world, may be fully vindicated."

After Dr. Koo's speech the chairman, Wilhelm Hunter, Latvian foreign minister, asked whether any member had observations to make on the Chinese plea. None replied. Mr. Hunter decided to defer discussion to a later session.

appeal against the judgment of Mr. Justice Robertson. Pending the outcome of the court action, the city will not attempt to meet maturities which have already fallen due this year or which may fall due prior to the completion of the appeal, Mayor Andrew McGavin stated today.

Interest on such issues would be paid at the rate on the old bonds until the maturity date. Following that the interest would be at 4½ per cent. Bonds affected this year, the mayor stated, amounted to approximately $500,000. There was more than sufficient money to care for them in the sinking fund, but the application of that fund was in doubt pending the outcome of the appeal, he noted.

BRITISH MINE EXPLOSION
DEATH TOLL 72

and injured were brought to the surface. Scenes were particularly gruesome in the little mortuary, where wives and relatives sought to identify the bodies, marked by yellow tags.

Clergy mingled with relatives of the victims and attempted to comfort them. Some of the womenfolk kept their vigil with stoicism.

One woman found that four members of her family were still in the blasted workings. She was Mrs. J. W. Grainger of the nearby village of Clowne. She said her whole family—her husband, John William Grainger, her 21-year-old son, Robert Henry, and her two brothers-in-law, Ambrose and Tom Grainger, all were in the mine.

"Tom (one of her brothers-in-law) just escaped with his life in the explosion in the pit in 1937," Mrs. Grainger said.

One miner brought to the surface said the first blast hurled him to the ground and for several minutes he did not know what had happened. When he recovered consciousness the walls and ceilings of the mine chambers were crumbling all around him.

"Clouds of smoke poured through the workings," he continued. "The explosion occurred more than a mile from the shaft bottom."

DOCTORS COURAGEOUS

Doctors and nurses displayed courage under difficult conditions. One of the physicians, Dr. J. B. MacKay of Boleysay, was overcome by gas while working over a victim and had to be removed from the pit and taken to a hospital.

F. H. Wynne, chief inspector of the Ministry of Mines, hurried here from London as soon as the disaster was reported. Dr. F. W. Fisher, medical expert attached to the ministry, was working in nearby Northumberland and also came here.

Both officials, together with local inspectors, proceeded directly to the mine and entered the smoking shaft as soon as debris was cleared away.

Scores of rescuers, stripped to the waist, fought through roof falls toward the trapped men. Police broadcast a call for oxygen. Rescuers, with gas masks, sealed up one section of the pit to prevent gas from seeping through to the trapped miners.

A dull rumbling followed by flashes of flame and clouds of dust signalled the first blast about 6 a.m. in a shale seam 2,550 feet deep as the night shift was preparing to come to the surface. The first blast caused heavy roof fall.

The second explosion occurred shortly after 8 a.m., while injured from the first blast were being brought out.

Throughout the morning a melancholy procession of ambulances went back and forth from the colliery yard to the Chesterfield Hospital, where the Vicar of Hollingwood and several other clergy administered last comforts to the badly injured.

A heavy pall of silence, broken only by muffled sobs, overhung the crowd assembled around the mine office and the entire village of Duckmanton. Every rescue worker who appeared on the surface was surrounded by anxious questioners.

At regular intervals a list of victims was posted on the bulletin board of the wall of the office. Small groups would gather around the bulletin and then disperse.

A list of major mine disasters in the British Isles in the last 35 years follows, with the number killed:

Paper Reports Arrival of Gold Shipment of $10,000,000 to $25,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Gold Bullion from France, understood to be not less than $10,000,000, and possibly $25,000,000, arrived in Ottawa early last night and today was stored in the vaults of the Bank of Canada, the Ottawa Journal said in a newspaper story.

"Believed to be the first gold for account of the French republic ever to be received in Canada, the bullion, it is understood, is intended as a reserve in Canada for the purchase of munitions for France," the Journal said.

In addition to the regular express staff, the bullion was accompanied in an express car from Montreal by eight Canadian Pacific Railway policemen, heavily armed, said the paper.

Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, would not confirm or deny that the gold bullion had arrived and was stored in the bank's vaults. He merely said "there is no comment."

Recent dispatches from London, England, quoted the News Chronicle as saying two shipments of gold of a total value of $25,000,000 had been arranged by France for Canada.

The shipments were to be made by British authorities, and represented gold which was earmarked in Paris for account of the British equalization fund. The News Chronicle added there were two possible explanations of the transaction. It might represent sales of gold bullion to the Bank of Canada, or the British authorities might think it advisable to accumulate for their own account a reserve of gold in Canada.

URGENT

those of others in British Columbia will be materially affected by the passage of such a bill in its present form.

WORLD MARKETS

"It should be pointed out that British Columbia more than perhaps any other province, is dependent on world markets for markets outside that of its own province for the sale of its products," said Mr. Reid.

"It is, I believe, safe to say that shippers, especially of lumber, have been able at times to secure orders for lumber, and in some instances for other goods in eastern cities of Canada, due to the fact they were able to send shipments by water through the Panama Canal at a freight cost which enabled them to compete with other competitors. It is doubtful if these orders would have been secured but for this fact."

"If this bill passes in its present form, those desiring to ship such bulky goods as lumber, and wishing to take advantage of the Panama Canal water route would find themselves faced with securing or chartering a ship duly licensed by the board of Transport Commissioners."

DIFFICULTIES SEEN
"Just how difficult it might be for the owner of a ship under this act to obtain a license allowing him to carry lumber or goods from British Columbia ports to eastern cities on the Atlantic seaboard will, I believe, be apparent to all on examination of the sections of the bill dealing with licenses."

Mr. Reid stated that if drastic regulations were placed against the use of waterborne transport from British Columbia "not only will they not be able to take advantage of the Panama Canal, but will be further faced with competition from United States competitors in Washington, Portland and Oregon, who can ship lumber to eastern Canadian ports via the Panama Canal without any restrictions whatever as to tariff or licensing of ships."

The railway companies would not get the business anyway, Mr. Reid said. "It will mean only the loss of business or orders by the various lumber manufacturers in British Columbia who will not on account of the higher railway rates obtain or get into eastern Canada markets."

AGREED RATES
Mr. Reid also opposed the agreed charges section in the bill, which would allow special agreements to be made between shippers and carriers which would be lower than the regular rates.

His particular objection to agreed charges was that he felt the possibility existed that large shippers or importers would be placed in a preferred class as against smaller or individual shippers or importers of the same class of goods.

Mr. Reid said he believed difficulties would arise when adverse decisions were made on any appeal to the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Under the present Railway Act, the appeal on questions of fact would go to the cabinet. He suggested that an appeal court or board be set up, for "the cabinet ministers have not the necessary time to devote to appeals."

CALGARY VIEWS
Chairman Thomas Vien, Liberal, Montreal-Outremont, read to the committee a letter from the Calgary Board of Trade commenting on the bill.

The board said that if the provision in the bill for agreed charges gave one shipper a special contract without extending it to other shippers, the trade board opposed it. While recognizing the difficulties of meeting truck competition, the Calgary board felt application of an agreed charge without extending it to another shipper would be discrimination.

Alberta Appeal
Taken To London
Privy Council Is to Rule On
Press, Bank and Credit
Bills

LONDON (CP)—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today granted the Attorney-General of Alberta leave to appeal the judgments of the Supreme Court of Canada on the province's bank taxation, credit regulation and press bills.

These measures, sponsored by the Social Credit government and enacted by the Alberta Legislature, were found unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

Leave to appeal to the Judicial Committee is a formality and their lordships probably will hear the appeals at the end of the month. Cyril Radcliffe, K.C., for the Attorney-General of Alberta, said the petition raised matters considered of the utmost importance to Canada.

Principal respondent in the appeal is the Attorney-General of Canada, who did not oppose the petition.

EYE OF BABY IS EXAMINED

Physicians Hope to Save Sight of Other Eye of Chicago Child

CHICAGO (AP)—Baby Helaine Colan's left eyeball, removed in an effort to save her life, went under the microscope today for examinations that might help physicians to preserve the vision of her other eye.

The 5½-week-old infant spent a comfortable night after the surgical operation which a council of 10 medical experts decried at the only course against death from glioma of the retina.

They were asked to make a decision when Helaine's parents were unable to decide whether she should undergo an operation and risk total blindness or be allowed to die.

The cancerous growth had destroyed the vision in the left eye and has impaired that in the right. Medical experts said the disease would be fatal if it should reach the brain through the optic nerve.

Dr. Robert H. Good, who performed the operation, said the baby reacted favorably, experienced no pain, and lost less than a half a teaspoon of blood.

He reported the eyeball was considerably enlarged by the tumor, but that the optic nerve, an inch of which was removed, appeared normal. The eyeball, nerve and bone parings were turned over to radiologists for examination and laboratory tests.

The child's mother, Mrs. Estelle Colan, 23, was near collapse at a friend's home, where she sought seclusion. Her husband, Dr. Herman Colan, a dentist, expressed gratitude to the physicians for their decision.

"Mrs. Colan and I are praying that our baby may retain the sight of one eye," the father said. "But my wife said she would love our baby just as much, if not more, without her sight—and I feel the same way."

Rabbi A. E. Abramowitz, the family spiritual adviser, said the parents had decided not to see the baby until it could be removed from the hospital, or until a report of definite progress.

6. That no national of any country, having been accepted as an immigrant, be entitled to re-enter the Dominion if he has left to serve in military, naval, air or intelligence services of the country of his origin. Furthermore, any Canadian accepting such service with a foreign power would relinquish his rights to Canadian citizenship. 1. That a joint committee, representing the provincial and federal governments and Canadian-born Orientals, formulate a program to fit the latter with an equality of opportunity with other Canadians.

The possibility of complete assimilation of Canada-born Orientals would be the object of study and research by students and the University of British Columbia.

2. That reasonable opportunity in all pursuits be open to Canadian-born Orientals, with regulations to provide against the control of an industry passing into the hands of nationals.

League Told New Pact Peace Aid

Halifax Assures Council
British-Italian Treaty Step Forward

GENEVA (AP)—Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary of Great Britain, told the League of Nations Council today that the recent Anglo-Italian agreement was a contribution to world peace, thereby aiding the cause for which the League was built.

Lord Halifax was followed by the French Foreign Minister, Georges Bonnet, who echoed his words in defending the Franco-Italian agreement now under negotiation.

Lord Halifax said the fact Great Britain and Italy were able to reach an agreement entitled both to claim a contribution "to the cause of international peace, thereby strengthening the cause which this great society exists to serve."

Spokesmen for China and government Spain also made speeches. Dr. Wellington Koo charged Japan was using poison gas in the Far Eastern war. The Spanish government delegate, Julio Alvarez del Vayo, talked of Italian and German aid to the insurgents in Spain's civil war.

Ethiopian delegates fighting against recognition of the Italian conquest of their land won a temporary success by obtaining postponement until tomorrow at earliest of the Council's consideration of recognition.

IT ISN'T FAIR - BUT IT HAPPENED

By dint of strict economies, Mrs. "F" helped her husband to succeed... when he died people said his family was as well provided for as Mr. "G's", who had never had to save. They were wrong...

Mr. "F's" Mistake
Mr. "F" made the mistake of leaving everything outright to his widow and appointing her executrix of his estate. Mrs. "F" knew nothing of business... she made bad investments... tried to recoup her losses in the stock market... lost still more. In the end, Mr. "F's" home had to be sold for whatever it would bring... his children could not complete their education. His widow now lives in a tiny flat and seldom sees her former friends.

Mr. "G's" Foresight
Mr. "G" realized that his wife could not manage an inheritance. In his will, he divided his estate into three parts, his wife's to be held in trust for her lifetime, his daughter's until she married or reached the age of 35, his son's to be paid in instalments, at age 21, 30 and 35, and appointed a trust company executor and trustee. His plans have been faithfully carried out... his family still enjoy the fruits of their inheritance.

Today the world moves fast... governments rise and fall... stock markets jump and slump... prosperity and depression succeed one another with bewildering rapidity. Few individuals untrained in investment management can follow these changes... realize their significance. That is why... though many fortunes are made... few are kept. We suggest that you consider the advisability of creating a trust in your will... and appointing this company your executor and trustee. Why not talk it over with one of our officers?

Winter Wheat In U.S. Estimated
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Agriculture Department said today a winter-wheat production of 754,153,000 bushels was indicated by May conditions. A month ago 725,707,000 bushels were indicated. Production was 685,102,000 bushels last year. Average production was 546,396,000 bushels during the 10 years 1927-36.

Indicated yield is 14.9 bushels an acre, compared with 14.6 last year and 14.5, the 10-year average.

Winter wheat acreage sown last fall was 57,316,000, of which 50,677,000 acres remain for harvest, with abandonment totaling 11.6 per cent. Acreage sown for the 1937 crop was 57,612,000, remaining for harvest 46,946,000 acres, and abandonment 18.5 per cent. The 1937-38 average sowings were 45,644,000 acres, remaining for harvest 37,281,000 acres, and abandonment 18.2 per cent.

SPIES IN U.S. TO BE ARRESTED
NEW YORK (AP)—In strict secrecy, the United States government moved today to ferret out allegedly wide-spread ramifications of a foreign spy ring accused of stealing army secrets.

The investigation, coming on the eve of big-scale manoeuvres described by the army air force as the most realistic aviation "war game" in the country's history, was disclosed today by United States Attorney Lamar Hardy.

The prosecutor said witnesses would be called before the federal grand jury this week, probably on Thursday.

Four persons are now in custody, including 26-year-old Johanna Hofmann, a German citizen, employed as a hairdresser on the north German Lloyd liner Europa, who is accused by the government of acting as "pay-off" agent for the spy ring.

Trustee Body of Accident
Liability

An insurance policy which will protect the City School Board from liability in accidents involving pupils, teachers or board officials, was approved last night at a cost of $250 a year for three years.

The policy was written with the Canadian Indemnity Company and is for $5,000 to $50,000 based on the average school attendance in the year preceding the one for which the policy is in force.

It offers complete coverage to the board and protection from all types of accidents in which the board might be held liable. Approximately 6,000 persons will come within the coverage.

The only exception under the policy is to accidents involving automobiles which are owned and registered in the name of the insured, but these are covered by separate insurance.

A warning to be careful of spending the $4,200 extraordinary expenditure in this year's estimates until such time as the vote has been thoroughly clarified by legal opinion, was given members of the school board last night by Trustee W. P. Marchant, finance chairman, in the presentation of his monthly report.

This vote, which Trustee Marchant questioned several weeks ago as to being properly described as extraordinary, is now being considered by outside legal opinion.

Trustee Marchant reported expenditures to date totaled $183,344.64, out of a total budget of $501,412.91. Revenue was $34,140.91 out of an estimated $36,341.40.

Tourist Queries*Provincial Bureau Predicts
Huge Influx This Year

Concrete evidence to support his forecast that British Columbia in 1938 will have one of its greatest tourist years was produced today by W. Lloyd Craig, director of the provincial government's bureau of industrial and tourist development.

During the five days of May 2 to 6 inclusive, the bureau, he said, received 441 direct tourist inquiries from its advertising, almost three times as many as in the same week last year when 133 people wrote for information about the province.

The advertisements published by the bureau carried coupons at the bottom for the use of those who wish to get more data for their holiday trips. The inquiries received are a direct result of these.

"This is the one important yardstick we have a gauging the tourist business," said Mr. Craig. "The indication plainly is that we are in for a very large influx of tourists this year because the season is only beginning."

During the same period the bureau sent out 5,229 pieces of publicity literature by comparison with 2,037 pieces last year. Pressure of work has become so great that an extra helper was added to the staff last week.

A move to free the city of any responsibility which might arise from disease contracted by people swimming in the Gorge, by referring the whole matter of Saanich sewage flowing into that swimming hole to the Provincial Secretary, was delayed by the City Council last night.

The recommendation to that effect, submitted by the health committee, was referred back to it to consider along with other questions of pollution with the public works committee.

The council heard a letter from Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer, outlining suggestions advanced at a meeting between provincial officials and Saanich municipal delegates. Included in the letter was the suggestion that the city allow residents of Saanich, living near the city boundary, to connect with city sewers. It also enclosed Saanich's case on the Gorge issue, which suggested raw sewage was flowing into the Inner Harbor and Victoria Arm from houseboats and mills in the city.

Alderman Ed. Williams asked why his committee on public works had not been notified of the meeting and why Victoria was not represented.

The health committee presented a motion to lay the whole matter before the Provincial Secretary, ask him to see that steps were taken to remove the cause of the pollution and announcing the city would not be held responsible for any possible epidemic arising from existing conditions.

TO ERECT NOTICES

The council was informed the parks board was erecting notices in the Gorge Park warning bathers the water was unsafe.

Commenting on the failure of the city to have a delegate at the meeting attended by Saanich, Alderman Williams declared:

"It looks to me that Saanich just put it over on us and that we were asleep."

Alderman W. L. Morgan suggested the government had heard Saanich's side of the argument and should hear the city's case. Alderman S. H. Okell moved for the rescinding of the health committee's motion and brought in an amendment to refer the whole question back to the health and public works committees.

"It is quite evident to me the provincial government does not want to face the issue. They want to side-step it," Alderman R. A. C. Dewar commented before the motion was put.

Alderman James Adam supported Alderman Dewar in questioning the city's jurisdiction over houseboats and mill properties operating on the foreshore.

Alderman W. H. Davies thought the only course to be taken was "to pass the buck back to the provincial government."

The amendment, sending the matter back to the committees, was carried on a divided vote, with Mayor Andrew McGavin and Aldermen Morgan, Okell, Williams, Archie Wills and Adam providing the majority.

The board referred to Trustee W. E. Stanland, building and grounds chairman, the question of surveying the sports equipment supply in the city schools. The matter will be reported upon at the next meeting to serve as a guide for purchases for the coming season.

The board accepted an invitation from the I.O.D.E. to attend the annual Empire Day ceremony at 10.30 in Parliament Square on May 24.

April enrolment at city schools was 4,913 as compared with 4,995 in March, according to a report presented to the trustees. This total included 2,490 boys and 2,423 girls.

The school dentists reported there were 408 operations in dental work during April, including 250 fillings, 69 extractions and 20 other operations. The health inspector reported 336 pupils examined during the month.

Churchill in Action

RT. HON. WINSTON CHURCHILL wants Great Britain to persuade nine other nations to join with her to breathe life into the League of Nations and prevent aggression in Europe. He was speaking last night to a mass meeting in Manchester—the city in which he won his most spectacular political fight in 1906.

Reminding his audience that there are 85,000,000 people in Great Britain and France, Mr. Churchill saw no difficulty in attracting the support to his plan of Yugoslavia, Roumania, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Greece and Turkey. While he would not advocate going "hat in hand" to Soviet Russia, asking for her co-operation, he saw no reason why the war should not be left open to the Moscow government. And eventually, Mr. Churchill thought, Italy might feel inclined to add her support to such an alliance. As to Grossdeutschland he said: "If Germany nourishes no aggressive designs, she had better join the club, too, and share all its privileges and safeguards, for we ask no security for ourselves that we are not prepared to extend to Germany."

The former cabinet minister and one of Great Britain's most versatile parliamentarians had gone to Manchester to speak in behalf of the League of Nations Union's "Defence of Freedom and Peace" movement. "Stand by the Covenant" (of the League), Mr. Churchill exhorted, because "in this lies assurance of safety, defence and freedom, and hope of peace." Parenthetically, he interjected that Britain should enter no pact with Germany which would agree to the return of colonies, or result in muzzling of the press. Nor did he want to go on record as objecting to a pact (between Britain and Germany), but "I want to know what the pact is going to be and at whose expense it is to be made."

Three points emerge from this appeal from Mr. Churchill. 1. Its simplicity and commonsense. 2. Its implied hostility to the Chamberlain government's policy of going "hat in hand" to Italy and Germany. 3. A fairly clear intimation that he still believes in the League of Nations and is by no means proud of Britain's recent contributions toward its slaughter.

Mr. Churchill knows that if the nations really want to secure peace, all they have to do is agree on a plan, support the League of Nations and give it teeth. Soviet Russia's Maxim Litvinoff told the Disarmament Conference — of hallowed memory — when it opened for business in 1932 that the only way to disarm was to disarm. The other delegates looked at him as if he had gone crazy. Mr. Churchill's reference to Italy and Germany is another way of saying what the electors of three thoroughly representative constituencies have said about the government's foreign policy. The trend of the discussions of the council of the League in Geneva at the moment no doubt furnished some of the inspiration which produced Mr. Churchill's appeal.

There have been many times within the last 20 years, of course, when the war-time First Lord of the Admiralty has not inspired public confidence. In recent days, however, Mr. Churchill has mellowed, and such rhetorical fire as he still seems able to kindle is made to blaze with commendable humanitarian purpose. It is true that Lord Balfour once said of him that he carried "heavy but not very mobile guns," yet when he forsook the Conservative tariff reformers and vacated his seat in Oldham to fight North-west Manchester in 1906, his verbal artillery helped to crush the forces led by Mr. Balfour himself. Back in Manchester last night, then, the unpredictable, the meteoric and still the incomparable Winston appeared once again to be showing his old form.

No "Cliveden Set"

VISCOUNT AND VISCOUNTESS ASTOR —husband a member of the House of Lords and wife a member of the House of Commons—have written letters to The Times (London) asserting that allegations of a "Cliveden set" are a "Communist fiction."

It will be recalled that about the time of the "Eden affair" suggestions were made that a group of pro-Fascists met at Cliveden, the estate of the Astors, for the discussion of governmental policy — the implication being that the atmosphere was distinctly pro-German.

Lady Astor now says no group meets at Cliveden in the interests of anything, that she believes in democracy, and is opposed to all forms of dictatorship. And: "As regards the imaginary Cliveden set, some who are said to belong to it have never been at Cliveden and others have not been there for years," she observes. "I was in the United States when, according to a Communist leaflet, a week-end meeting occurred at my house. The whole story is a myth."

To this Lord Astor added: "Lady Astor and I are no more Fascists today than we were Communists a few years ago when we supported the trade agreement with Russia." There will be no disposition to contest the truth of the statements to which Lord and Lady Astor have given expression. All who may feel inclined to try to influence governmental policy ought to bear in mind, however, that no matter how weak a Prime Minister may be, the British public will not tolerate such tactics as were ascribed to what has been styled (apparently without justification) a "Cliveden set."

Tomorrow's Football Classic

TOMORROW EVENING AT ROYAL Athletic Park the Islington (London, England) Corinthians will do battle against the best soccer team Victoria has been able to get together. The visiting players have been on the go all round the world for the last eight months—scoring goals in Continental Europe, Egypt, Burma, Malaya, China, Japan and the United States. They are now once again on British soil and may count on a hearty Victoria welcome.

So far the Corinthians have engaged in more than 80 games, finishing five on the wrong end of the goal tally, with 18 drawn. At Vancouver last Saturday the mainlanders held matters even. At Nanaimo yesterday the Islanders excelled themselves and won a 3 to 2 decision over the visitors. The local eleven will naturally want to do as well as, or even better than that tomorrow. In any event, a keen game is guaranteed, and a bumper crowd should be on hand. The exhibition is bound to be worth more than the price of the ticket of admission.

Fine Generosity

TO THOSE WHOSE FAITH IN HUMAN nature is being sorely tested by the turmoil of the times, the act of an anonymous philanthropist in Vancouver will come as a particularly pleasing refresher.

By a $50,000 donation to the British Columbia cancer fund this unnamed giver has made it possible to put into service a lump of radium purchased two years ago. It can now be fashioned into needles to aid in fighting disease. Plans to establish a central unit in Vancouver, with branches in Victoria, Nelson, Prince Rupert and Kamloops, will be expedited.

Such a donation is entitled to warm commendation. One of the stipulations of the gift is that indigent patients shall have free treatment with the radium—proof of the fine humanitarian instincts of the giver.

Frontier College

AT THE DAWN OF THE PRESENT century, Frontier College was established in Canada, and from small beginnings it has become a potent force among the sturdy workers of this country who for most of the year are out of touch with what we call our modern civilization.

It is the policy of the organization each year to place what it describes as "laborer-teachers," selected from Canadian universities, among migratory men employed in seasonal work in out-of-the-way places—in the Canadian hinterland. Its principal purpose is to provide companionship, general instruction in the fundamentals of Canadianism, and leadership—for navvies, bushmen and every type of campman across the Dominion. In short, as these workers cannot go to the university, the university is taken to them.

Apart from the obvious want which Frontier College has been filling so efficiently and continuously for the last 30 years —and there is ample documentary evidence available to substantiate any claim in behalf of its usefulness that may be made— it is encouraging to learn in this materialistic age that young men of university education, of fine physique, and of good Canadian background, are ready to give of their best to assist this fine educational and humanitarian enterprise.

These laborer-teachers, by the way, do not find it all "beer and skittles" by any means. They share hard work with their fellows, whether it be under sub-zero conditions or in the heat and among all the pests which furnish the inconvenient accompaniment to a blazing sun. They hold their classes in all sorts of improvised quarters and there they teach their rough-and-ready pupils what is best in Canadian life and Canadian thought. Thus does Frontier College play a part in the development of mind and body of which it has every right to be proud.

Notes

Now scientists tell us that too much loss of weight is depressing. Just notice how dismal a thin rain is.

Man is fearfully and wonderfully made. When you threaten his pocketbook, you endanger his sacred principles.

A man in New York recently celebrated his 72nd birthday by running backwards for three miles. "... oh, Time, in thy flight!"

A superintendent of nurses in Kansas City states the patients at her hospital don't ask for pretty nurses. A hundred to one it's a mental institution.

PERSONS OVER 65

New York Herald Tribune

This analysis of the situation as of the end of 1936 shows that there were about 7,800,000 persons over 65 in the country. Only 13 per cent of them supported themselves out of earnings, but another 18 per cent were living on their own savings, insurance annuities or other resources. Adding in the rather small handful living on industrial or military and Civil Service pensions gives a total of over one-third of all those above 65 who were self-supporting. About 44 per cent of all were supported by relatives or friends; the remaining one-fifth were supported "wholly or partially" by public or private philanthropy—mainly, it is scarcely necessary to say, by public agencies, particularly the old-age assistance benefits under the Social Security Act.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OLD QUOTATION

THE OTHER DAY I happened to be reading over again Kipling's "Letters of Travel" and came across the familiar piece about Victoria. It is so much better than anything else ever said about the place that I think it should be memorized by all loyal citizens of this town and spouted at unsuspecting Americans. For this purpose, I reprint here the opinion of one of the world's most travelled men and one of the half-dozen first-rate geniuses of his time:

"Canada possesses two pillars of Strength and Beauty in Quebec and Victoria. The former ranks by herself among those mother-cities of whom none can say, 'This reminds me.' To realize Victoria you must take all that the eye admires most in Bournemouth, Torquay, the Isle of Wight, the Happy Valley at Hongkong, the Doon Sorrento, and Camps Bay; and reminiscences of the Thousand Islands and arrange the whole around the Bay of Naples, with some Himalayas for the background."

"Real estate agents recommend it as a little piece of England—the island on which it stands is about the size of Great Britain—but no England is set in any such seas or so fully charged with the mystery of the larger ocean beyond. The high, still twilights along the beaches are out of the old East just under the curve of the world, and even in October the sun rises warm from the first. Earth, sky and water wait outside every man's door to drag him out to play if he looks up from his work; and though some other cities in the Dominion do not quite understand this immortal mood of Nature, men who have made their money in them go off to Victoria and with the zeal of converts preach and preserve its beauties."

"I tried," said Kipling, "honestly to render something of the color and gaiety and graciousness of the town and the island, but found myself piling up unbelievable adjectives, and so let it go with a hundred other wonders."

Victoria is much lovelier now than when Kipling saw it. Yet you all persist in taking it as a matter of course, and when I keep harping on it you grow very bored. Every Victorian should be forced to live for a year in Calgary, Winnipeg, Toronto and way points. After that he would be happy here for the rest of his life.

PROPHET

THE AMERICAN MAGAZINES and reviews now coming to hand appear greatly excited over the recent interview between President Roosevelt and Mr. Henry Ford at the White House. Neither of the parties to the interview would reveal its contents. It was only known that Mr. Ford had come to give Mr. Roosevelt the benefit of his advice about running the nation.

To see the extraordinary attention given to the event you would have thought that Mr. Ford was the ablest economist and statesman in the world, a kind of prophet from on high who knew the Answer and the Way Out, if he would only speak. They are still trying down there to find Mr. Ford's Answer, and his Way Out, but they haven't. It doesn't seem to have occurred to any of them that perhaps Mr. Ford doesn't know the Answer and the Way Out.

Yet Mr. Ford's coming to Washington to tell the President how to run the U.S.A. is precisely like Mr. Roosevelt going to Dearborn and telling Mr. Ford how to run his automobile plant. Indeed, Mr. Roosevelt probably could tell Mr. Ford more about running his plant than Mr. Ford could tell Mr. Roosevelt about running the U.S.A. You would think to hear the common adulation of Mr. Ford that his automobile plant was far more difficult to run than the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. combined, when, comparatively, it is a very simple business.

If Mr. Roosevelt went to Dearborn to advise Mr. Ford, the public would jeer. When Mr. Ford goes to Washington to advise Mr. Roosevelt, the public stands by, hat in hand, breath bated. So far as I know, Mr. Roosevelt knows little about automobiles. So far as any public utterance has indicated, Mr. Ford knows less about government. But the legend that a captain of industry, having built an automobile must know how to build a nation, dies hard down there.

THREE TIMES

ABOUT A THOUSAND people, more or less, have sneaked up on me these last few days and asked me to write something good and poisonous about the habits of Victoria theatre audiences. They tell me their evening was quite ruined when a Victoria audience insisted on standing for the playing of God Save the King (or Queen) in the last scene of Miss Helen Hayes' "Victoria Regina." They said this was an example of village manners, an absurd affectation, an exaggerated Victorianism, a kind of puffed-up, consequential patriotism which would make the world laugh. One man told me, in fact, that he had tugged at the coat of a lady in front of him and dragged her to her seat so that he could see the show.

Altogether the audience stood up three times for the National Anthem, before the show, during it, and at the end, almost a world record, I should think. The same public, they tell me, recently leaped to its feet when some unfortunate musician played a tune which the public took for God Save the King but which was some harmless German folk ballad. You just can't keep Victorians down.

I think it is nice. I don't hold with all these cheap protests against our patriotism. It is one of those quaint touches which distinguish Victoria from other places and make it seem attractive to tourists and profitable to us. Americans would absolutely revel in it. If any were in the audience of "Victoria Regina" the other night they went home, no doubt, and told the folks in Iowa that they had just come out of another age, far more English than England (where the comfortable citizenry wouldn't rise more than once in an evening for the National Anthem or for an earthquake). Let Mr. George I. Warren and our theatre habits to our policemen's hats, our petrol stations, our Oxford accent and the other elaborate paraphernalia with which we snare the unsuspecting American dollar.

Times Reporter on Voyage of Discovery
By PETER STURTSBERG

In Winnipeg I saw Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Luckhart, Jack Dunn, Dick George and "Red" Martin. Except for "Red," who was on a visit, the Victorians had not quite settled down and were a bit homesick. We unbundled our souls on Ray Arnold, the only true son of the prairies among us. We told him of the wonders of British Columbia.

But he refused to be impressed. He looked at things with the cold eye of a materialist. There was no money out there, he said. One good crop and they would be shovelling dollar bills into the furnaces in Winnipeg. He had a tremendous faith in the west.

By the way, you Victorians who live in the westernmost part of Canada are not from the west—at least not to the people of the prairies. You are from the coast. The prairies is the only true west, and the people of the prairies are the only true westerners.

As the hour grew late some one suggested a "nip." I had visions of creeping stealthily into a bootlegger's. More to please my host than anything else, I agreed. Much to my surprise—and relief—I discovered the "nip" was nothing more dangerous than hamburger and coffee.

Winnipeggers have cut the business of ordering refreshments to a minimum. "One whisky or one without" sung out lustily in any "spot," be it white, pink, or gay, will bring a hamburger with or without onions. But what seemed to be the ultimate in abbreviations was "T.C.C."—toasted cinnamon and coffee.

These signs of progress in Winnipeg are somewhat offset by a tendency on the part of its citizens to jay-walk. They take no notice of lights, and they saunter diagonally across arterial highways. Everyone, young and old, seems to do it.

When I almost hit the windshield for the third time, I remarked about this pedestrian anarchy. A rather new Winnipegger explained to me that people got into this habit because in winter time they had to keep walking otherwise they would freeze to death.

Jibes such as this finally exasperated the westerner who was driving the car. Passing through Riverside Heights, costly residential area of Winnipeg, which looks rather like the Uplands, he took one hand off the wheel and waved it around expansively.

"You're right, things are tough," he said. "Did you notice back there, three men lying in the ditch? Those children look as though they are starving. Everyone's on relief and there's no money here. They're only the paying $60 and $70 a month for apartments for which you pay $35 on the coast."

"I tell you it's propaganda," all propaganda, eastern propaganda," he added, growing quite bitter.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the Editor:—Would you kindly insert the enclosed letter in the Times. A copy of the same I have sent to each of the Saanich school trustees by registered letter.

"Dear Sir: Time and conditions now being satisfactory to me, I have great pleasure in asking you to make good your challenge, made at a Saanich School Board meeting a short time ago, that if I would resign from the board you then would also vacate your seat, and contest an election with me. I now publicly ask you to make good your word by resigning, for I have many questions I would like you to answer on a Saanich platform, as I know the truthful answers to same would not fail to be interesting and would considerably enlighten the at present puzzled electors. "Yours for Truth and Justice, "WILLIAM TOMES," 350 Burnside Road, Saanich, B.C., May 5, 1938.

"PATRONAGE"

To the Editor:—When one reads in the Colonist such news items as those of May 3 and today concerning the assertions of Mr. H. J. Barber, Conservative member for the Fraser Valley in the House of Commons, that Liberals are being favored on relief projects in British Columbia, one must merely chuckle and assume that a by-election or an election is near at hand, for that, in all probability, is the reason for this very ancient political stratagem at this time.

Had Mr. H. J. Barber concluded his remarks with "My Party has never shown the slightest favoritism to anyone when in office," which he did not, of course, but a chuckle but a hearty laugh would be indulged in.

FASCISM AND DEMOCRACY

To the Editor:—On Monday evening, May 2, over CBR, Mr. Tom MacInnes deluged the public with a vicious attack on peace and democracy under the title "Mind Your Own Business." The title of his address made us naturally ask the question, "Is Mr. MacInnes minding his own business?" First of all he tells us that he belongs to the Nationalist League of Canada, which is definitely linked up with the Nationalist movement in Quebec and other parts of Canada, and is a frankly Fascist organization.

The Fascists in Quebec, who are Nationalists of the same brand as Mr. MacInnes, are drilling in preparation for the day when they will seize power in Canada and, in the meantime, they are supporting the sale of arms and ammunition to Japan, Germany and Italy to assist these Fascist nations in their mass murder of men, women and children in China and in Spain. Is this the way in which Mr. MacInnes "minds his own business"? He also attacks the League for Peace and Democracy.

Naturally the League stands for the thing to which he is opposed—peace and democracy. Part of Hitler's diplomacy is to "neutralize" the democratic countries; in other words, to get them to "mind their own business" while he goes ahead with his conquest of the world for

OPTICAL EYE-TEMS

By GORDON SHAW
3—EYES OF GLASS

There will shortly visit Victoria—a descendant of an old German family of glass blowers. Since 1500 A.D. this family has plied its trade and in the year 1800 started to make artificial eyes. G. Danz of San Francisco, together with other members of the clan, with its roots in far-off Lauscha, Germany, possesses the jealously guarded secret of glass for artificial eyes. Mr. Danz with his blowtorch and sticks of colored glass duplicates perfectly the markings of the iris, size of pupil and delicately traces the veins on the white of the eye. To those who, through misfortune, have suffered the loss of an eye, the skill of the artificial eye-maker is very gratifying. Artificial eyes are sometimes fitted from stock by selection, but obviously one made to order is more nearly perfect in fit and appearance.

At the change of seasons children often get irritable, lose appetite, become unusually tired. Of course, it is the digestive system which needs a thorough "spring cleaning" to rid it of impurities and poisons which have accumulated over the winter months. The old-fashioned distasteful remedy was "sulphur and molasses". Children DO like pleasant-tasting Eno's "Fruit Salt". ## Change to a Life-Giving Cereal

A cereal does not only taste good but be good for you, if you are to get any value from eating it. Your system must get energizing, health-building elements from your food, otherwise it will grow weak, fall prey to disease. Why risk health when you can safely and sanely do what thousands of others are doing?—that is, eat Roman Meal—the unique vitalizing cereal rich in the elements you need for good health. When Dr. Robt. G. Jackson discovered Roman Meal thirty years ago he was, at fifty, a dying wreck, crippled and nearly blind. Today he is eighty-years-young, a marvel of glowing health and superb vitality. His remarkable recovery was due largely to Roman Meal, which has since brought health to thousands of once sickly people in many countries. You, too, can benefit. Whether you are ailing or well, Roman Meal will assist in improving your entire system by building up resistance and clearing out accumulated poisons.

Could you do this balancing act? Dr. Jackson does it easily at 80 years of age.

Roman Meal is different because of its unique ingredients—a scientific combination of granulated whole wheat and rye, finely cut bran, rice polishings and flax-oil. No other cereal contains all these ingredients. Each contributes in correct proportion the natural elements necessary to build resistance and bodily fitness—qualities no grain alone possesses. And remember—Roman Meal cooks in three minutes and thus the essential elements are preserved unharmed.

Change today to Roman Meal, the vitalizing, mineral rich cereal. Drink Kofy-Sub at every meal. You'll enjoy this deliciously refreshing alkaline beverage that contains no caffeine. In a few weeks you'll be surprised at the improvement in your health and vigor.

ADVERTISING IN CALIFORNIA

Displays on Victoria to Run in Newspapers During Conventions in South

Arrangements had been made for two 40-inch ads to run in leading Los Angeles and San Francisco papers during the Shrine and Rotary conventions, respectively, in June, George I. Warren reported to the Victoria Island Publicity Bureau board of directors at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Warren said a large ad would run in a leading Los Angeles paper June 9, the day the Shrine convention there concluded, while another would appear in a San Francisco paper June 22, during the Rotary convention.

Mr. Warren said his recent trip south with Major Gordon Smith had been most successful. New billboards advertising Victoria and the island had been added to those already on the highways through the Pacific Coast states. In regard to Major Smith's work on the trip, the directors moved a vote of thanks to W. J. Asselstine, M.P.P., for the co-operation the bureau had received from the government.

In reporting on his recent trip to attend a travel directors' convention in San Francisco, Harold Husband said the feeling in California on the tourist situation was one in anticipation of this year and next being very profitable for the Pacific Coast and the Northwest. California had lost its intercoastal steamship service and that would be a big factor in making B.C. ports entry points and jumping-off places for the Pacific Coast.

Guest at the meeting, E. J. T. Woodward, who had recently taken up permanent residence at Metehosin, voiced the opinion Victoria was not boosted enough from within the city by its own citizens. He said he had found the district around Victoria excellent for commercial farming in spite of adverse reports he had received on arrival here.

An invitation to the bureau directors to attend the opening of John Dean Park at Mount Newton on Saturday was extended in a letter from the North Saanich, Sidney and Island Parks Board.

CARNIVAL TO OPERATE HERE

Crescent Canadian Shows to Be Given Permission to Work in City

With some misgivings over the possibility of complaints from residents in the neighborhood, the City Council last night gave provisional authorization to its special celebration committee to grant the Crescent Canadian Shows permission to operate on a vacant lot on Pandora Avenue at Amelia from May 19 to 24.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, lands committee chairman, referred to the complaints received last year from residents who objected to the noise. There would be more, he believed.

The mayor agreed with Alderman Dewar, but suggested the committee get in touch with officials of the neighboring churches to see if they had any objection to the site chosen.

Alderman Ed Williams thought the city should do nothing to interfere with the churches or lodge halls.

Alderman W. H. Davies, committee chairman, stated the carnival company had offered to pay a daily license and grant the city a percentage of its gross take.

Earlier in the meeting the council received and filed a letter from the Victoria Day Sports and Race Meeting Association drawing the aldermen's attention to special contests included in the program for civic and municipal dignitaries.

Enter Car In Nanaimo Parade

Junior Chamber's Entry in Up-island May 24 Event Is Goodwill Gesture

As a goodwill gesture to aid in the promotion of a feeling of understanding and friendship among island communities, the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will enter a decorated car in the Nanaimo May 24 celebrations parade, it was announced last night at the general meeting. Jack Hartree is chairman of the committee handling arrangements for the entry.

Ernest Harris presided over the meeting which was attended by 52 members, the best turnout this year. It was decided to send a delegation to attend the official opening of the John Deal Park on Mount Newton next Saturday afternoon, an invitation to that end having been received from the North Saanich and Sidney Island Provincial Parks Board. A good representation of the Junior Chamber will also attend All-Sooke Day on July 13.

Report on the floral window trimming contest held under the auspices of the chamber was given by Don McIntosh, and Ernest Peden gave an account of the chamber caravan tour of some of Victoria's better gardens Sunday afternoon.

A water cruise for members is planned for May 29. It will be a stag affair and a committee will be struck to handle arrangements.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

MAY 10, 1913

(From the Times Files) Speculation is rife about town as to the outcome of the discovery that there is no Sunday observance law on Vancouver Island. Rumors that the baseball club intends to play Sunday games at the Royal Athletic Park and that the theatres intend opening next Sunday are flying all over town. "Is Victoria to become a wide-open town?" is the question. "Or will steps be taken by the church element to get stricter laws than ever?"

Complying with a request of the Victoria Automobile Association, a by-law will be introduced in a few days, to prevent "the nuisance arising from the use of motor vehicles."

This somewhat comprehensive plan is really designed to prevent the use of Klaxon horns and cut-outs, which are being generally banned on the Pacific Coast.

Preparations are well under way in all branches for the events making up the usual Victoria celebrations on May 24. The regatta committee has drafted its program of events at the Gorge. The horse and motor car parade will be the principal event in the morning. For the afternoon and evening there will be a gymkhana at the exhibition grounds and there will be a display of fireworks after dark.

Shawnigan Lake

Mrs. A. Sutton loaned her home to the ladies association of the United Church on Saturday afternoon for a bazaar and home cooking sale.

At the monthly meeting of Shawnigan Lake Women's Institute Thursday, Mrs. E. Anderson, who recently left the district to reside in Victoria, was the recipient of a gift from the members and a letter of appreciation for her services to the community. Mrs. G. G. Orr will represent the institute at the provincial conference at Vancouver.

At the Monthly meeting of the Malahat branch Canadian Legion, Capt. R. B. Longridge of the Duncan branch, first vice-president of the provincial command, gave a talk on Legion affairs and stated it now has 1,600 branches with a membership of over 170,000.

The Women's Auxiliary heard from Mrs. J. B. Bell a report of the provincial executive meeting in Victoria.

Col. W. S. Latta of Victoria, who went on the Vimy Pilgrimage and toured the continent, showed moving pictures of the battlefield and views of Scotland and England.

The monthly meeting of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute will be held Tuesday evening in Luxton Hall.

Local Girl Is Married In North

Miss Margaret Relf Becomes Bride Of Rev. E. W. Slater

PRINCE RUPERT — With the Bishop of Caledonia, Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix, D.D., officiating and the dean, Very Rev. James B. Gibson, assisting, the marriage took place at 8 Monday evening, May 2, in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral of Miss Margaret Relf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edwin Relf of Victoria, to Rev. Edward Wickham Slater, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Holis Slater, also of Victoria.

The church had been beautifully decorated by members of the Anglican Young People's Association with spring flowers and foliage and the setting for the ceremony was very attractive. The service was fully choral and Peter Laff presented at the pipe organ, playing Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride, given in marriage by T. A. Bryant of Metlakatla, was charmingly gowned in black flowered silk with black hat and accessories and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Elizabeth M. Webber of Victoria, was similarly gowned. George William Slater, brother of the groom, was groomsmen. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Bishop's Lodge, where Mrs. G. A. Rix was hostess. There were 24 guests. The rooms were tastefully decorated and the bride's table was centred with a handsome cake which was duly cut by the bride. A delicious wedding breakfast was enjoyed. Mrs. J. B. Gibson and Mrs. J. D. Allen poured and Mrs. A. G. Rix served.

Felicitations were extended to the contracting couple. The toast to the bride was proposed by the groom, the groomsmen responding to a toast to the bridesmaid. There were also short addresses appropriate to the occasion by Miss R. M. Davies, O.B.E., Rev. Canon W. P. Rushbrook, City Commissioner W. J. Alder, Dean Gibson and T. A. Bryant.

LONDON (CP) — Mrs. Alfred Watt, former Victorian and president of the Associated Country Women of the World, has announced plans for the organization's triennial conference in London in June, 1939, when 10,000 women from every part of the world will attend. The official languages are to be English, French and German, though the opening ceremony will have greetings also in Norwegian, Swedish, Finnish, Danish, Estonian, Latvian, Lithuanian, Icelandic, Dutch, Czech, Yugoslavian and African. Also in native tongues: Gikongo, Indian, Maori and North American Indian.

Widely different subjects will be discussed: The social and economic aspects of land settlement plans in many countries as seen by women who have taken part, the growing apprenticeship system for agricultural and domestic science students; the farm women's position today and her most valuable contribution to rural sociology and whether she is most valuable as a homemaker, producer or breadwinner; the new developments in soil fertility as applied to home gardens; international comparison of administration of health and educational services.

There will be discussions over labor-saving devices and bringing up children. The health trains and health caravans of Australia and medical air services will be described. Germany will describe how girls of one home are trained in other homes by other mothers in how to keep house.

Co-operation Urged In Control of Cancer

Dr. Richard Felton Addresses Local Council of Women on Subject; Plans Made to Entertain National Council Here May 24

Periodic medical examinations, enabling the early diagnosis and treatment of cancer, were urged by Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, in an interesting address before the Local Council of Women yesterday afternoon.

Public health authorities have done so much valuable work in the control and prevention of communicable disease that these diseases now take a secondary place to others, and today the greatest cause of sickness is the common cold.

PROVINCIAL CLINICS

The setting up of cancer clinics was a move in which the Women's Council might be of service, said Dr. Felton. The object would be to establish a provincial cancer department which would have control of clinics and methods of treatment. Money was needed for its maintenance, for the purchase of radium and the cost of its processing, for further research, and for educational propaganda, in which emphasis must be laid upon the abolition of fear of cancer.

Dr. Olga Jardine, who presided, spoke of the generous gift of $50,000 made by an anonymous donor to fight cancer in British Columbia.

Plans for the national meeting to be held in Vancouver were discussed and nominations were selected from the list submitted from the national roster. Dr. Olga Jardine, Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, Mrs. A. C. Ross, Mrs. J. L. White, Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, Mrs. Alan Campbell and Mrs. Bertha Parsons were appointed delegates to the national convention.

Misses K. Meadows, I. Gibson, M. Moyer, I. Jeune, M. Dempster, A. Slaford, I. Taylor and V. Jeune.

Twenty-four tables were in play at the very enjoyable card party held at the home of Commander and Mrs. C. T. Beard, The Dockyard, last night under the auspices of the Esquimalt Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League. The hostess was presented with a fragrant corsage bouquet of gardenias by Mrs. H. Temple, president of the subdivision, who acted as general convener of the affair, assisted by Mrs. C. Allen and Mrs. P. Harris. The reception rooms were attractively arranged with spring flowers, and a dainty supper was served. The prize winners were: Contract, first, Mrs. F. J. Sehl and Mr. James Adam; consolation, Mrs. C. Scott and Mrs. W. B. George; auction, first, Mrs. E. Colbert and Mr. J. E. Colbert; consolation, Miss Nancy Milloy and Mr. G. Brockington; five hundred, first, Mrs. McVie and tion, with Mrs. J. W. Gibson as an alternate.

TO BE ENTERTAINED HERE

The national delegates will visit Victoria on May 24, arriving here on the afternoon boat. After a visit to the Butchart gardens, the delegates will then be entertained at high tea at "Apple-garth," Sidney, as the guests of Mrs. Snape and Dr. Jardine. One representative of each affiliated society is also invited to "Apple-garth," the name of such guest to be given to Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, Mrs. Carmichael or Mrs. J. W. Gibson before May 16, it was urged. An appeal was also made for cars for the transportation of the many delegates expected.

Mrs. E. L. Hill, convener of arts and letters, read the report of the national convener. Mrs. Hill urged the members to form study groups for reading Canadian literature, together with some of the notable books of other lands.

The members were reminded of the Lady Aberdeen memorial fund, to commemorate her many years of service to the provincial council. Letters were received from Mrs. J. D. Gordon and Comtesse Suzanne, acknowledging messages sent from the council. An appeal was made by the Medical Aid for China Committee for linen and other supplies.

NATIONAL PARK

A resolution asking that Garibaldi Park be made more accessible and be developed as a national park, received from North Shore Local Council, was laid on the table, pending further information.

Mrs. Bradley; consolation, Mrs. Lloyd Hutchinson and Mrs. Parlane.

Fish Bowl Made of Satin

A satin goldfish bowl, seen above, was one of the novelties used by Montreal industrial chemists to demonstrate a recent discovery of British research laboratories. Described as the first finish for textile materials that is not affected by washing or dry-cleaning, this remarkable discovery led fashion experts and textile authorities who attended the demonstration to predict the widespread introduction of permanently spotproof and water-resistant clothing. The dress worn by the model was also made from treated material.

By PETE SALLAWAY

AT FIRST GLANCE the Australian cricket tour of the United Kingdom might appear as a glorious jaunt for the 16 players chosen to make the trip, but in reality it is an arduous affair requiring strong muscles and iron constitutions. A little figuring proves informative. From April 30 to September 15 the Antipodeans will play 35 matches, including five tests against England. Thus 105 days or about 630 hours are scheduled to play, with 33 off days, including Sundays.

It is true some of the matches probably will be finished ahead of scheduled time and only 11 players are called on in each match, but even after allowances for this, it is still a pretty rigorous program. There is always the chance of injuries, and the Aussies, this summer, will play for six or eight weeks without Sidney Barnes, who fractured a wrist on the way over. Then again, Australian cricketers on tour toe the line in the matter of discipline. They subscribe to a prodigious list of "don'ts" and "musts." Wives and relatives are not allowed on the trip. The players must live together in hotels selected by the manager; they must attend all functions designated "official" and are required to return to Australia with the team.

Newspaper writing and broadcasting are not permitted, and only Captain Don Bradman, with approval of the manager, is allowed to communicate with the press or give any information concerning matters connected with the tour. Players are not permitted to sell autographs or make stage appearances at theatres. Neither must they make records or films or give lectures.

Breaches of any of these conditions render a player liable to suspension from the team and an order to return home, besides having to forfeit all claims to payment for the tour. All things considered, the visiting cricketer enjoys himself. He is entitled to receive $600 ($3,000) for the trip. An additional $50 ($250) is allowed for taxi charges and other incidentals.

Henry Armstrong will have to hand Barney Ross a terrific pasting on May 26 to make the welterweight champion retire. And Barney the bridegroom doesn't believe that he'll be belted about. "Only my mother has asked me when I will quit," says the gentlemanly Chicago boy, in reply to the report that he intended to shortly call it a career. "I tell her that I'll know when I'm through. I'll know when I'm getting smacked too often, and when my legs are softening up."

"I don't have to fight for money any more, but there are good money shots staring me in the face now—Armstrong and Lou Ambers. When I do retire, I hope I'll never have to do a Benny Leonard. . . attempt a comeback without a leg under me. Necessity was Leonard's trouble, but I can go into business with my father-in-law, and perhaps make $12,000 a year." In promising the trade of pyrotechnics, Ross points out that Armstrong everlastingly charges in, and asserts that it's 1000 to 1 that Barney Ross will hit back and not back water. "The fight's a natural because of styles," says Ross, who is installed at his favorite camp at Fernside, N.Y. And he has an idea that Hammering Henry is tailor-made for him.

Surprising Senators Move Into Lead in American League Baseball Race

One of the most interesting angles in the American League scramble this season, regardless of its outcome, is likely to be the race between the teams owned by the man who tried to buy a pennant and failed, and that owned by the "old fox" who doesn't spend much cash but gets some good ball players by trading.

Tom Yawkey's gold-plated Boston Red Sox appear all set to produce a real return on the club owner's big investment. But to get to the top they not only must dispose of the world champion New York Yankees and the highly rated Cleveland Indians, but also Clark Griffith's inexpensive Washington Senators, current leaders of the pennant parade.

Washington took over the lead yesterday by trimming St. Louis Browns, 7 to 1, while Boston gave a demonstration of strength by bowing over Cleveland, 15 to 3, and knocking the Indians over the top. As the other American League clubs were rained out, Cleveland and the Yankees wound up in a second-place tie a half-game behind the Senators with the Red Soxers another game back.

LEONARD STAR
A "bargain counter" pitcher, Emil (Dutch) Leonard sent the Senators to the top. Picked up from Atlanta this season after one major league failure, the 30-year-old knuckle ball expert has won three of his five starts. He allowed only seven singles yesterday and drove in three tallies himself with a triple and single.

The Red Sox, who have been getting along well on the excellent pitching of the veteran Lefty Grove and John (Footsie) Marcum, really went to town for young Jim Bagby yesterday when the rookie faced his dad's old club for the first time. Young Jim pitched six-hit ball, although he passed seven, to gain his second victory. Behind him the Sox added 11 blows to a dozen walks off three Cleveland flingers.

Manager Joe Cronin, who apparently has been inspired in the Maxie Baer manner to do great deeds since birth of a son a couple of days ago, opened the firing in the first with a homer with two on base. Jimmy Fox duplicated the feat in the six-run sixth, then he socked another with one aboard in the seventh.

The "comeback" of St. Louis Cardinals again featured the National League's program as rain eliminated the second Giants-Cubs clash. The Cards, who have won five and tied one of their last seven games and have climbed from seventh place to fifth, belted over Brooklyn Dodgers, 9 to 7. Joe Medwick's big shift the balance of a 30-hit game when he came up with a triple with two aboard and the score tied in the eighth. It was his fourth hit of the game.

The fourth-place Cincinnati Reds kept pace with the Cards by pounding out a 9 to 4 decision over the Phillies as Ray Davis' seven-hit hurling made up for the fact his teammates left 14 men stranded. Boston Bees, who had lost two straight extra-inning games, came back to win one in the 10th. They beat Pittsburgh's Pirates, 7 to 5, when Deb Garmes connected for a pinch single with two out and the bases full.

RING TOURNAMENT ENTRY HEAVY

Boxing and Wrestling Stars Enter Dominion Championships at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP) — Nine provincial champions are among the 43 amateur fighters who have filed entries for the Dominion boxing championships here May 16 and 17. Most prominent is little Joey Gagnon, Montreal's bantam king, who wore the Maple Leaf at Sydney, Australia, in the last British Empire Games. Don Rowand of Winnipeg, manager of the Empire boxing team, rates the Frenchman one of Canada's greatest amateurs.

The featherweights have seven entrants, including Winnipeg's Billy Brade, another Empire Games representative, and Peter Derback, Manitoba champion. The latter surprised Manitoba's fistic circles by smashing out a close victory over Brade in the provincial championships recently.

Harry Hillman of Winnipeg and Frankie Williams of Regina carry provincial titles in the lightweight division, while Alex. Lindsay of Winnipeg, Alfie Nyberg of Fort William and Isie Helmer of Saskatoon pounded their way to championships in regional tournaments. Nyberg is tops around Thunder Bay and is expected to provide the 147-pounders with a stern argument.

STRONG FAVORITE

Champion Jack Cumming, Winnipeg middleweight, is a strong favorite in the 160-pound class, with Mickey Swiss, another Winnipegger, a leading contender. The list is small in the light-heavyweight and heavyweight divisions. Stan Rideout of Windsor, Ont., and Gaston Eichel of Regina are the only light-heavyweights as yet, and Norman Gladu of Winnipeg, Dick Syms of Fort William and Battling Jenson of Bely, Sask., make up the big fellows' group. Cities from Vancouver to Saint John, N.B., will be represented in the eight classes, but entries from some cities have not yet been received.

Schmeling Tells How He Will Win

German Heavyweight Not Worrying About What Tactics Joe Louis Will Use

NEW YORK (AP)—There isn't a doubt in Max Schmeling's mind that he will be able to swat champion Joe Louis on the jaw with his right hand on the night of June 22, no matter how much the young negro has learned in the two years since Max last clipped him.

"Yah, I know what some people think," said Max, when he arrived here from Germany yesterday. "They say Joe will be careful this time and do nothing but jab me with his left and not let me hit him with a right."

"That's foolish, I think. I hit him the other time when he tried to jab, and I knocked him out. No, he was not always hooking with his left when I hit him. Sometimes it was a jab, too."

But what, Max was asked, would happen if Louis should prove super-cautious and try to lay back and preserve his championship before a long, darting fight? Might not the eagerly awaited battle devolve into something very boring?

"No, that will not happen, believe me," said Schmeling. "I want to win the championship, so I will open him up. For 15 rounds he cannot keep away from me. He must fight some time, and when he does I will hit him with this." He inspected his right fist briefly.

Tour Team Set Down By 3 to 2

English Football Players Appear Tired in Match Before 1,200 at Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—Islington Corinthians, the London amateur team that's writing soccer history by carrying the English game into the far corners of the globe, are finding their British Columbia campaign the toughest of their seven-month tour.

Held to a 2 to 2 draw by a Vancouver all-star squad at the mainland City Saturday, the Corinthians moved here yesterday only to suffer a 3 to 2 defeat at the hands of a picked up-island side in a twilight battle. There was an attendance of 1,200.

It was Corinthians' fourth defeat since they began their tour from London last October, during which they have played 79 games. But the setting was far from that where they suffered their other setbacks—Burma, India and Egypt.

Today they move to Victoria for their third British Columbia game against a picked Capital City side tomorrow night. Then they move to Vancouver for a "replay" with the mainland all-stars before going east, Thursday.

TWO GOAL LEAD
All-stars played steady football throughout the game yesterday, flashing brilliant rallies for two goals in the first half to lead 2 to 0 at half time. They scored another in the second half before Corinthians broke into the scoring column on a penalty shot and added another with six minutes left.

Corinthians appeared tired as the game opened and all-stars, the pick of football players from upper island cities, had most of the territorial play throughout the first half.

The first goal came after 37 minutes of play. T. Conti of Cumberland, inside left, heading in a perfect pass from H. Watson, another Cumberland player, from the right wing.

Two minutes later, all-stars broke through again. Watson centred a pass and A. Parks, (Turn to Page 13, Col. 2)

2—A BULLET'S OWN STORY
How fast a bullet travels! Out of a gun it flies, so fast that no eye can see it go past. Cameras have been made, however, which can photograph a bullet in flight. Time and again bullets have been "snapped" after they left the pistol or rifle from which they were fired.

a soap bubble.

An idea of the speed of a bullet is gained from the fact that it can go through a soap bubble before the bubble has time to burst. Men have used bullets to give them mastery over fierce wild beasts of forest and jungle, and I am sorry to say bullets also have been used for bad purposes. A person who fires a bullet should know where it is going. On a hunting-trip, he should make sure that it misses the animal he is aiming at it will not strike a human being. The terrible thing called "murder" is carried out, sometimes, with a bullet. The gift of life is taken from one person by another, who perhaps plans the deed far in advance. "Who fired the bullet?" That is the question officers of the law sometimes must answer. They are helped by a strange and interesting fact—a bullet which passes through a gun barrel writes a story of its own. Experts say the scratches on it tell the kind of weapon used. One day, Charles E. Waite, famous arms expert, was given a badly mangled bullet by a police chief. It had been used in shooting a banker. The next day he told the chief: "That bullet was fired with black powder from a gun with a rusty barrel. The gun had a six-groove, right-twist spiral, with a pitch of nine and a half inches. The gun was made by Nicholas Pieper of Liege, Belgium." "Made in Belgium!" exclaimed the police chief. "I have suspected a Belgian artist all along!" That is just one of many cases in which bullets have been traced to guns from which they were fired. Facts in vast numbers have been gathered about pistols, rifles and other weapons, and they help experts to learn where bullets came from. After the owner of a death weapon is located, it does not prove he fired the fatal bullet. Other facts, however, may be brought forth to clear the case. Great care should be taken in the courtroom that gun experts really know their business. A farmer in the state of New York was sentenced to death largely on the testimony of men who set themselves up as "experts" but really did not know much of what they were talking about. Learning of this, Waite went to the governor and asked to be allowed to go into the case. After careful tests, he proved that the farmer's gun had not fired the bullet, and the farmer was pardoned.

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1938
Good and evil planetary aspects seem to contend in the horoscope of this day, according to astrology. There may be a tendency toward despondency and unstable opinions.

While the stars encourage constructive work among engineers, architects and builders, persons who are engaged in law cases, government affairs and literary pursuits may feel intense depression.

Muddled thinking may be widespread as labor problems become more complex and industry sustains heavy losses. The seer declares that compromises must be sweeping and leaders far-seeing.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of pleasure among friends. They should beware of all financial risks.

Children born on this day probably will be original and forceful, with ability to win what seems worthwhile. Subjects of this sign of Taurus have Venus as their ruling planet, and for this reason may succeed in artistic vocations.

Irving Berlin, American composer, was born on this day 1888. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Spencer Baird, Newberry, chemist and manufacturer, 1857; Charles Warren Fairbanks, one-time vice president of the United States, 1852.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl of 19, engaged to a very fine young man. I love him very much, but he and I are just two different types of people, as opposite to each other as day from night. We don't like the same things, not even food. I am serious-minded, while he thinks lightly of things that to me mean everything. I can't understand him and he doesn't understand me. Do you think I can make myself over to fit his ways and ideals if I go at it with a strong heart and all my will power?

Answer: No, I don't. I don't believe that you can change your nature any more than you can change the color of your eyes. You can, of course, force yourself to adopt this young man's habits and ways. You can go to his church. Read the books he reads. Let him pick out the movies. You can have highly-seasoned food on your table or plain food. And you can refrain from arguing with him about the subjects upon which you think differently.

This outward agreement may satisfy him, but it won't satisfy you. It won't make you happy and it won't bring you and your husband any nearer together, because underneath it all will still be the real you, with your own opinions unaltered, your own standards unshaken, your own nature unchanged, and you will still be craving hot bread or cold bread according to the way you were raised.

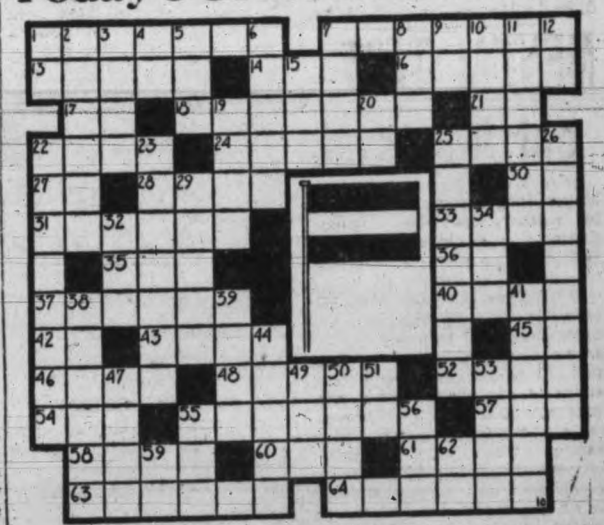

The one indispensable thing in marriage is congeniality, for a couple to have the same tastes and habits and like the same things. And it is a great mistake for different types of people to marry each other. A warm-hearted woman's heart breaks if she is married to a cold and unromantic man, so does the affectionate man's heart break if he is married to a human frigidaire. A man and woman can be happy together either saving or spending, either gadding or staying at home, if they both want to do the same thing. It is when one wants to do one thing and the other wants to do the other that they fight. My advice to you is to marry a man whom you understand, not one who will be a riddle to you as long as you live.

DEAR MISS DIX—What should a girl marry for—love, money, security or to keep from being an old maid?

Answer: It is silly to marry to keep from being an old maid, but a happy marriage should have the other three ingredients.

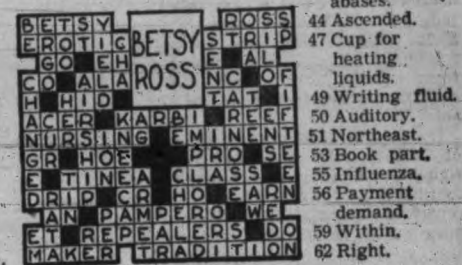

DOROTHY DIX.

Which Is Capital— Victoria or Ottawa?

Ottawa had needs to take better care of its laurels.

A week ago a girl on a United States radio network program gave Victoria the credit of being the capital city of Canada. That honor was again bestowed upon the city today when a letter was handed on to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau addressed: "The Canadian Government, Victoria, B.C."

The letter was from a Brownsville, Texas, resident, seeking information on the possibilities of getting established in the fur-farming industry anywhere in the Dominion. It was passed to the Victoria Dominion Public Works Department officials, who in turn handed it to the Publicity Bureau as it dealt with information that could be supplied by that organization.

MENTAL TEST BEFORE TRIAL

SEATTLE (AP)—Decasto Earl Mayer fought the accusation of his mother, Mrs. Mary Eleanor Smith, that he killed James E. Bassett 10 years ago with the charge she had lost her mind.

The 43-year-old state penitentiary convict, who repudiated his confession made Saturday, on his arrival last night in the city jail, said: "I will demand he be examined by an alienist before she is permitted to testify. No court can consider evidence from an insane person."

It was the confession of the 73-year-old woman, given last week in her cell in the penitentiary at Walla Walla, that seemingly cleared up the 1928 murder mystery.

In repudiating his confession, Mayer maintained Bassett, former Baltimore, Md., man, still lives. He confessed, he said, as a ruse to get back to Seattle "to protect" his mother, though he last week from the prison.

Mayer is serving a life sentence as an habitual criminal.

TOWN TOPICS

An application for a tag day for Commissionaires in this city was made by Mayor Andrew McGavin by Sir Percy Lake this morning. The mayor requested Sir Percy to make his request in writing to the finance committee.

The Men's Parish Guild will meet on Thursday in the Memorial Hall, when Dean Spencer H. Elliott, M.A., will give an address. Members of kindred organizations throughout the city have been invited to attend, and the meeting will be open to men generally.

The annual meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will be held on Monday, May 16, at 12.15 in Spencer's dining-room, when new officers will be installed. Col. H. F. Leeson, M.C., Vancouver, will address the meeting on the subject of "Defence Problems."

Public works had been suggested as the solution, "but is it right to get young men into a state of mind where they want to turn to the government for assistance?" he asked.

The problem, he said, was due to British Columbia having absorbed a large proportion of the overflow of the prairies in the last five years—a fact which was proved by census figures. Of the group of 5,000 unemployed single men whom the province had cared for in the mainland camps through the winter, 1,800 had had no residence in British Columbia until last September.

Mr. Pearson discounted suggestions that the government take care of these men through the summer. Last year, with 1,000 more men in the winter camps, there had been no real problem, and figures showed employment was quite active in British Columbia this season as last, whatever the conditions of the rest of the continent might be.

He said about half of the men cared for over the 1936-1937 winter season had not returned to the camps this last winter, and that it was fair to presume they had got jobs. If they had been under the province's care all summer they would still have been in the Department of Labor's hands during the winter, and the 2,500 jobs would have been filled by additional men from the prairies instead.

The province, said Mr. Pearson, had no objection to men from the prairies coming to seek opportunity, but it did object to having to keep them when they could not find work.

Mr. Pearson devoted the greater part of his talk to a review of legislation designed to help young men and women of the province leaving school to find employment. He explained the apprenticeship, learnership and minimum wage provisions.

Throughout he stressed the flexibility built into the legislation to provide for special cases.

In this connection he said there was a lack of knowledge on the part of the employers of the privileges which they enjoyed with regard to cases where application of the legislation in its full form would work a hardship.

He did not favor regimentation, but it appeared necessary in a few cases to protect employer and employee alike from men who sought to use every method possible to further their own immediate gains.

He believed that for its own survival capital must recognize that it must turn into wages, and through wages into purchasing power, all the product of the labor it employed except that necessary for a reasonable return on its investment and for depletion, depreciation and amortization of capital for future development.

Mr. Pearson was introduced by J. B. Clearhugh, K.C., and thanked by J. G. MacFarlane, president of the club.

Eight persons were fined $2.50 each when they pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to parking violations. A ninth was fined $10 for exceeding the 30 mile an hour speed limit.

Canal to Clean Gorge Requested

Victoria's request for a canal from the headwaters of Portage Inlet to Esquimalt Harbor, which the City Council thought would relieve pollution conditions in the Gorge, was made by the health committee to J. P. Forde, resident engineer for the federal government, during a meeting at the City Hall today.

Mr. Forde promised to give the committee a report in writing on the request. It was understood he did not consider the scheme very favorably.

The committee secured from him an assurance a ladder would be built on the Breakwater, from the top to a ledge 8 feet below, and was informed the question of improving the approach to the structure, to make it a promenade, would be given consideration.

The proposal to secure a site for a fish boat float was also discussed at the meeting.

Three Months For Possession Count

Sing Chong, Chinese, who was charged with possession of stolen property in connection with the rounding up of a gang of juveniles who pleaded guilty to a series of charges in the Saanich and City Police Courts, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labor by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Court this morning.

Sing was charged with possession of a quantity of cable stolen from the C.P.S. lumber mill. Other youths involved in the offences were sentenced to terms which in effect amounted to suspended sentence when the court ordered them to serve the time between the dates of their first appearance and sentence. Only one served any time in the lockup.

In passing sentence on Sing, Magistrate Hall said he was taking into consideration his youth and also the fact that he was satisfied there would be no recurrence of the offence.

The city relief committee will meet a delegation from the Relief Project Workers' Union, Victoria Local, at a meeting in the City Hall on Thursday afternoon at 3.30.

PLAN TO ALTER HOLIDAY LATE

Monday Observance of Victoria Day in Canada Guardedly Approved

Mayor Andrew McGavin today said he appreciated the merits of celebrating "Victoria Day" on Monday, May 23, this year, but felt the proposal had been advanced a little late for application.

The question of switching celebrations in order to bring the holiday into a long week-end, extending from Saturday through Monday, instead of considering Monday an ordinary weekday and observing the usual May 24 holiday on Tuesday, was one for consideration by the celebrations committee, Mayor McGavin stated.

The proposal originated in Ontario. At Vancouver Mayor George C. Miller said there was "a lot of merit in the scheme and it would certainly be handier to have Empire Day May 23 so people would get a long week-end."

"But I don't think it could be changed now," he added. "The suggestion was put forward too late."

Mayor Andrew Davison of Calgary and Mayor J. W. Fry of Edmonton gave hesitant approval today to the proposal.

Mayor Davison said it looked like a "pretty good idea for this year but it might not work out for other years."

Mayor Fry said he hadn't thought about the proposal but it looked like a good suggestion. Mayor D. H. Elton of Lethbridge is in sympathy with the proposal. In fact, he believes all holiday observations where at all possible, including the proposed celebration of the King's Birthday in June should be arranged to fall on Monday.

OLD RULING IS REVERSED

Decision of Court of Appeal On Criminal Habeas Corpus Ruling Handed Down

The Crown's appeal from an order by Mr. Justice Manson freeing Yuen Yick Jun, alias Wah Kee on a writ of habeas corpus while the prisoner was serving a term for possession of opium, was allowed by the Court of Appeal in a judgment handed down today.

The decision reversed the ruling established by judgment from the Court of Appeal in the case of Rex vs. McAdam some years ago. In the latter case the present Chief Justice had entered a dissenting judgment.

Today the court allowed the appeal, set aside the order of the judge and ordered the accused arrested and placed in the custody of the warden of Oakalla prison farm.

The leading judgment, the Chief Justice stated, would be handed down in writing by Mr. Justice O'Halloran and would be a "valued addition to this branch of the law."

HISTORY OF CASE

Yuen Yick Jun was arrested at Ashcroft in January of last year and charged with possession of opium. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months and a fine of $200, with a further three months added in default of payment. After serving five months the accused applied to Mr. Justice Manson under writ of habeas corpus for his release on the ground he did not realize he was pleading guilty to a charge he had pleaded to a charge of smoking opium. Mr. Justice Manson set aside the conviction and ordered the prisoner's release.

The crown appealed that order and was met with the preliminary objection there was no appeal to the Court of Appeal from an order made on a habeas corpus application arising out of a criminal matter.

The court held it had jurisdiction to review the matter. The appeal of Power vs. Hughes, a Vancouver case dealing with arrangements between a landlord and licensee, was allowed, with Mr. Justice O'Halloran dissenting.

The court adjourned following presentation of judgments until May 17, when it will sit in Vancouver.

The following changes in the B.C. Electric staff have been announced today by A. T. Goward, vice-president: E. N. Horsey, resident engineer, becomes manager of the light and power department, succeeding the late S. J. Halls. E. G. Hart, who has been a member of the engineering staff at Victoria for several years, assumes the position of resident engineer under the supervision of G. M. Tripp, general superintendent of the company's activities on Vancouver Island.

EVOLUTION OF BUSINESSMEN

G. A. Hebben Speaks to Credit Granters' Association at Luncheon

A review on "The History of the Businessman," a recent book on the evolution of the early trader to his present-day contemporary, was given by G. A. Hebben to members of the Credit Granters' Association today at luncheon in Spencer's dining-room.

In his review of the book, Mr. Hebben said the businessman had stood for change and was often the victim of his own virtues. As far back as 3000 B.C. companies were formed by Mediterranean peoples for the purpose of trading with the northern barbarians.

Piracy was recognized as business to no small degree, and yet the traders who followed it were its potential victims. Together with this danger and the uncertainty of port tariffs, the early commercialist became a very shrewd bargainer.

The speaker told of the rise of shareholding companies to engage in privateering enterprises. According to the book, the Crusades were really fostered by the merchants of Venice for business purposes. Marco Polo of Genoa, he said, was merely a commercial representative. Italy took a leading role in finance in the early days and gradually drifted to different parts of Europe.

The 18th century saw the shopkeeping development in England and a keen knowledge of advertising, which was apparent even before the industrial revolution. Individual businessmen took their place in the world along with large companies, which went to the frontiers to capture wealth, either by force of arms or by trading. The speaker traced the subsequent development briefly to the present day.

"The adjustments effected by the skilled social worker have helped individuals to retain a receptive mind and heart and brought about a change which the best scientific treatment could not have achieved unaided."

"The amount of family welfare work done in a locality depends on many factors, and thus varies considerably from city to city. Where possible, well organized work is carried on, and effort, time and money expended on each case. Results are correspondingly gratifying, though, of course, appointments are not unknown. The character-building and religious activities of the army's evangelical work are fully utilized in its welfare services, and we ask the earnest and practical consideration of our many friends in Victoria."

POLICE SHOOT SET FOR JULY

With entries expected from all police forces of the Pacific Northwest, plans are being made for the annual Victoria Police revolver shoot which this year is expected to be an outstanding success.

The meeting this year will be shot at the new revolver range at Thetis Lake, which is in excellent shape and is a marked improvement over the old range at Heals. It will be shot on July 5 and 6, with a wind-up dinner on the last night, at which prizes will be presented.

There will be 18 events open to police officers and civilians and entries should be sent to William L. Ostler, police court clerk, secretary of the committee.

Salvation Army Voices Thanks

Appreciation Expressed For Generous Response to Annual Self-denial Appeal

The public is responding generously to the annual self-denial appeal of the Salvation Army. Fifty collectors are canvassing the city and are meeting with a kindly reception both in the business and residential districts.

"We thank the public for their generous response, and appreciate the confidence that is placed in our work," says Adjutant C. Watt. "Helping a man to get a job, or a woman to adjust domestic troubles, or a child to get better surroundings may be the deciding factor, and in the hands of God may mean his redemption. This has been proved true in many instances, and as the technique of the social worker, has been added to the Salvationists' religious fervor."

centre-half, nodded it in for the islanders' second goal.

Shortly after the second half opened, Parks increased the island lead to 3 to 0. He surprised the English back, soling between them to plant the ball in the net past the surprised Cyril Longman.

Corinthians came back with a strong rally and gave the island defence anxious minutes as they milled around the local net.

SCORE FROM PENALTY

The first Islington goal came when J. Sherwood, Corinthian inside right, planted a penalty shot past A. Johnston.

The shot was awarded when F. Gibbons handled in the penalty zone.

With six minutes left to play, Sherwood booted in the tourists' second goal from a scrimmage in front of the Nanaimo goal. Johnston had no chance.

The all-star goal was repeatedly called upon in the last few minutes as Corinthians staged a drive for the equalizer. But Johnston rose to each occasion and shut the visitors out from further scoring.

Teams follow: Corinthians—C. Longman; R. Manning; P. Clark; G. Dance; B. Whitaker; E. Martin; H. Read; J. Sherwood; D. Tarrant; W. Miller, J. Miller.

Nanaimo all-stars—A. Johnston; H. Bilton; F. Gibbons; W. McGregor; James Knight; A. Thompson; H. Watson; A. Parks; T. Conti; G. Grey; R. McMillan; Subs: Gibson, Kendrick, Easterbrook, Tantrum, Bartoldi.

Dominion-B.C. Talks on Relief

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Norman Rogers told the House of Commons last night that in dealing with the problem of single homeless men in British Columbia the government was acting in consultation and co-operation with the provincial government.

The Labor Minister was replying to a request for information made in the House last Friday by Angus MacInnis, C.C.F. Vancouver East. Mr. MacInnis said there was a serious situation in Vancouver because of concentration there of a large number of single unemployed men.

Mr. Rogers said last night that during the winter months some 4,600 men were provided for under a Dominion-provincial forestry plan in British Columbia and 300 men were given work on farms. Operation of the plan had been terminated at the end of April.
